Embracing the Transformation: God's Call for Everyone

Reflection on Galatians 1:11–16a

In Galatians 1:11–16a, the apostle Paul offers a deeply personal testimony of how God's call broke into his life in a way he neither expected nor deserved. Paul is clear: the gospel he proclaims is not something he inherited, earned, or reasoned his way into. It came by revelation—by God's gracious initiative. This passage invites us to reflect on a profound truth at the heart of our faith: God comes for everyone. No one is excluded from the call, regardless of their past, their reputation, or their resistance.

Paul does not soften his story. He reminds the Galatians that he once persecuted the church violently and tried to destroy it. By all human standards, Paul would have been the last person we would expect God to choose. His résumé worked against him. His zeal was misdirected. Yet it is precisely into this life—marked by hostility and harm—that God speaks a new word. “But when God, who had set me apart before I was born and called me through his grace, was pleased to reveal his Son to me...” Everything changes with that “but when God.”

This is the heart of the gospel: God's call is rooted not in our worthiness but in God's grace. Paul's transformation was not the result of self-improvement or moral correction; it was the result of an encounter. God did not wait for Paul to clean himself up, to understand everything correctly, or to make amends first. God came for him as he was—and loved him too much to leave him that way.

For the church today, this message is both comforting and challenging. It comforts us because it assures us that our failures, doubts, wounds, and even our sins do not disqualify us from God's call. There is no story too broken, no past too tangled, no identity too complicated for God's grace to reach. God is still revealing Christ to people in unexpected places and unlikely lives.

At the same time, this passage challenges us to embrace transformation—not just as a personal experience, but as a communal posture. If God calls those we might least expect, are we willing to welcome those same people? If God is in the business of transforming persecutors into proclaimers, are we open to being transformed ourselves—especially when it disrupts our assumptions or stretches our comfort?

Paul's story reminds us that the call of God is not only about being included; it is about being changed. To encounter Christ is to be reoriented—to have our lives turned outward toward love, humility, and service. As we reflect on Galatians 1, may we see that God's Kingdom is inclusive to all. And may we, like Paul, have the courage to embrace the transformation that His grace makes possible.

Prayer/Thought for the Week

Always pray to have eyes to see the best in people, a heart that forgives the worst, a mind that forgets the bad, and a soul that never loses faith.

Dear Lord, thank you for your faithfulness and loving kindness which you pour out on us every day. Remind us that you always have enough and that we in turn are your hands, your feet, your eyes, help us to care for those who need to be fed, loved and encouraged.

We pray in Jesus name.

AMEN

Prayer and Praise – first Sunday of the month 6 – 7 pm

We are delighted to invite you to our contemporary-style service at St Mary's.

Everyone is welcome.

This is a wonderful opportunity to invite family, friends and neighbours to church, especially those who have never been to church, those who haven't been for years or those who have never found a church that feels 'just right' for them. We very much look forward to seeing you at our next service.

NOTICES

Tracey Sheppard – Talk on the Glass Doors

The wonderful artist who designed the art on our beautiful new glass doors, Tracey Sheppard, has very kindly offered to give a talk on the design process and thought behind her work. We should have a date for this very soon, so watch this space!

From the History Society

We were saddened to hear of the death of Geoff Hawkes. He was a founder member and treasurer of Fairford History Society from 2004. He then became Chairman in 2008 when Keith Cottam retired, until 2020. We had been keeping in contact with Geoff through the Fairford Flyer Newsletters which his son, Simon read to him. He was a good leader and gave good support and advice, especially of a grammatical nature – shorter sentences and more commas, Alison. He has been much missed since leaving Fairford but we shall always have such fond memories of him and Jane.

We have also lost another of our founder members, Liz Hope, who will also be sadly missed in so many aspects of life in Fairford. Our condolences to Phil, Richard and all the family.

Snowdrops

A bit of folklore from Ingrid

After being cast out of the Garden of Eden, Eve sat sobbing in the cold, bitter wind. An angel took pity on her and breathed on a snowflake, sending it fluttering down to earth. Where the snow landed snowdrops grew.

The snowdrop has long been associated with hope and renewal , thanks to being one of the first flowers to emerge in late winter and early spring.

Fun Fact –

Snowdrops produce a type of antifreeze protein that helps them survive freezing temperatures, allowing them to bloom even when the ground is still frosty. Medicinal use - Compounds found in snowdrops have been studied for their potential in treating Alzheimer's. Galantamine, derived from snowdrops is used in some memory boosting treatments.

Church Flowers

We need more volunteers to arrange the church flowers. If you would like to help please contact me. It is a fortnight at a time and at least twice a year. No need to have any experience but willing to help. Please contact Heather – 712428. Thank you.

I am retiring from running the Church Flowers as from the first Sunday after Easter. My thanks to Beth who is taking over from me and I know she will be very efficient in keeping us all under control! As you are probably aware the cost of flowers has almost doubled in the last few months and it is a lot to ask our flower arrangers to buy two or three bunches of flowers during the winter months. If anyone would like to help us out with a donation it would be very much appreciated especially over Easter when we like to 'go to town' on the flowers! Thank you in advance

I have thoroughly enjoyed my time running the flower team and everyone involved has been so helpful and enthusiastic. I am still going to remain on the rota for this year. Thank you.

Items for Ukraine

The people taking a van to Ukraine no longer have room for bedding, clothing or shoes. They are VERY grateful for all the items on the blue poster here. We will continue to take them to the Ukrainian Church in Gloucester who are transporting them to Ukraine. If you have a question about any other items, please phone us on 0779 555 4102

Thank you Geoff & Hope

Annual St. Mary's Outing with the Friends of Fairford Church

The time has come again to think about our Annual Outing. I would welcome suggestions. Please give it some thought and let me know. I have had one suggestion of a visit to Exeter Cathedral with perhaps a garden visit on the way back.
