Readings for Sunday: Exodus 24.12-end; 2 Peter 1.16-end; Matthew 17.1-9

This Sunday marks the final pit-stop before we step into that solemn season of preparation and penitence that is Lent. Our jumping-off point into this time of reflection then, is a moment of clear revelation – the Transfiguration – where Jesus shows his closest disciples exactly who he is. He, Peter, James and John climb up a mountain and in a second, Jesus' appearance is transformed. He is clothed in dazzling white, his skin shining like the sun, and suddenly at his right hand and on his left appear two of the most significant figures from the long story of the Jewish people – Moses and Elijah. To say the disciples are shocked would be an understatement, and perhaps we might be similarly surprised at this sudden unveiling of Jesus' true nature.

Have you ever noticed that in our stained glass windows at St Mary's, this happening is shown not in a window by itself, but rather right in the middle of two illustrations of Jesus' resurrection appearances, at the top of the Corpus Christi chapel? We might wonder why that is. The Transfiguration happens quite some time before Jesus even gets to Jerusalem. Why should these moments be pictured together?

The answer is the same as why we reflect on this moment before we dive into our preparations for the great festival of Easter. It is a foreshadowing, a glimpse of the whole of the story, before everything can unfold. It is a moment of mystery and awe that will be a touchstone for the disciples as they go through all the suffering that comes with Jesus' arrest and execution, and then again as they face persecution as followers of the Risen Christ in the years after Jesus' Resurrection. There's a reason why Peter references this moment in his letter to the churches that we read this Sunday.

This clear unveiling that Jesus offers to his disciples, us included, is a gift of knowledge and assurance. How do we know who Jesus really is? We know because he has shown us. He has shown us in his words and actions, his teaching and healing, in his suffering and his death. And just in case that wasn't enough, for those who need the evidence of their own eyes first and foremost, he has shown us in visual glory and the welcoming voice of God echoing in the mountains, "This is my Son, the Beloved; with him I am well pleased; listen to him!"

This is a moment for us to carry with us too. Here is the fullness of who Jesus is – dazzling bright, flanked by law and prophecy, full of glory and power. And we remember with thanksgiving how Jesus lays that glory aside for our sake, as we tread that hallowed path toward the darkness and pain of the Cross, and the bright victory that lies beyond it.

Prayer/Thought for the Week

GET UP AGAIN

Falling down is only a temporary condition, staying down is what makes it permanent.

Father, as I go about my day, help me to fight my fears and worries by trusting in you. Help me to be on the lookout for people who might need a reminder of your love and kindness. Use me to be a source of encouragement to those around me. When I get worried by events that are beyond my control please remind me that you are near by filling me with your peace.

In Jesus name, AMEN

Lent Groups

Lent is on the horizon, with Ash Wednesday falling on 18th February, and as always we will be offering Lent Groups to help us study and reflect through this special season of preparation. They are:

Items for Ukraine

The people taking a van to Ukraine no longer have room for bedding, clothing or shoes. They are VERY grateful for all the items on the blue poster here. We will continue to take them to the Ukrainian Church in Gloucester who are transporting them to Ukraine. If you have a question about any other items, please phone us on 0779 555 4102

Thank you Geoff & Hope

Fairford & District Choral Society will perform Mozart's Requiem and his Te Deum and Ave Verum Corpus on Saturday 28 March at 7pm at St Mary's Church Fairford. There will be professional soloists and an organ accompanist. Tickets are £15 and are available from Fairford Opticians.

High Five Project 2026 – Raising Funds for Children's Charities

The Magic Breakfast. Glos Young Carers.

The Rainbow Trust. Smile Train. Home Start Cotswolds.

We have lots of exciting events coming up and need your help! Can you offer a RAFFLE PRIZE for our Wine Tasting Quiz Evening on 7th March? There is a box in the church office for collection. Could you be a QUICHE COOK for the event as well? We're happy to pay for ingredients.

Help us make the world a better place for the children supported by these charities. Read all about the project, the team, the individual charities, and our events in the High Five Booklet by the Stewards' Desk in the church. A summary is also on the church website.

Thank you. Linda, Meg, Jos, and Hope.

Dancercise. A Dancercise Group meets at Poulton Village Hall every Tuesday 10.30-11.30am, especially for those 'not so young', with music from the 60s, 70s, 80s. Nothing too taxing – simple exercises and fun dancing. £3 a session on the day – all subs go to High Five Project.

Wine Tasting Call My Bluff

A fun evening of tasting, guessing, and quizzing, with cheese and savoury snacks.

Can you guess which “connoisseur” is right about the wine you’re sampling?
